Prints of a recently completed painting of the Stillwater Veterans Memorial by award winning artist Randall Raduenz are now available for purchase. The prints are 16"x 20" and have a 12"x 16" picture image area. Each print is personalized with an actual photo image of the granite paver or pavers of the purchaser's choosing for attachment and display on the print at no additional cost. A personalized Certificate of Recognition and Authenticity along with the detailed history, symbolism, significance and meaning of the elements, images and partially hidden images of the painting are also provided. All prints are in limited edition, personally signed and numbered by the artist.

The painting reveals various elements and symbols that provide many visual and partially hidden images of the history, symbolism, meaning, and significance of service and sacrifice of veterans and active duty personnel. Visible elements in the painting include the memorial spire, Stillwater High School, eagle with flag with mottos of the service branches, granite pavers, the memorial's traditional red, white and blue flowers along memorial walkway and flowering gold star planter, as well shrubbery and trees in the background, and the setting of the memorial overlooking the St. Croix River. The partially hidden images include symbols of the branches of service related to the service flags including the MIA/POW flag, symbols of all our country's wars, the Fallen Soldiers' Battle Cross and other crosses, the ongoing succession of Last Man's Clubs, and as always a caricature of Kilroy, who always makes his presence known.

The print was designed to be inclusive of the history of all branches of service, all of our nations' wars, and commemorates and personalizes the service of individual veterans and active duty service men and women for their service and sacrifice in securing and maintaining our freedoms, individual rights and the very way of life of people throughout the world.
